Officiating pay:
Admissibility of-under
B'bay Civil Services Rules56-57.

GOVERNMENT OF BOMBAY.
FINANCE DEPARTT.
CIRCULAR No.351/33
B'bay Castle, 25th January 1933.

CIRCULAR OF GOVERNMENT.

The following instructions are issued in order to clarify the position regarding the officating pay admissible under B'bay Civil Services Rules 56and 57 in cases in which the officiating appointment of a Government servant does not involve the assumption of duties and responsibilities of greater importance than those attaching to the post on which he holds a lien or would hold a lien had his lien not been suspended. Presumptive pay as determined under B'bay Civil Services Rule 41 (a)(ii) is not to be allowed as a matter of course under Bombay Civil Services Rules 57 in such cases. It will be observed that the title to presumptive pay under Bombay Civils Services Rule 57 is subject to the provisions of Bombay Civil Services Rule 56. According to the latter rule, when the officiating appointment does not involve the assumption of duties and responsibilities of greater importance it is not permissible for the Government servant to draw pay which is higher than his substantive pay in respect of his permanent post. In other words, while the Bombay Civil Services Rules are not prohibitive in respect of officiating promotions in such circumstances, they undoubtedly restrict the officiating pay to the substantive pay admissible from time to time.

2. The case of a Govt. servant without a permanent post and therefore having no substantive pay in respect of such a post is, however, different. Bombay Civil Services Rule 56 being inapplicable in such a case, he is entitled to have his pay regulated exclusively under Bombay Civil Services Rule 57 read with Bombay Civil Services Rule 41 (b), but to check any extravagance in officiating pay in such cases it is always open to the competent authority to resort to the provisions of Bombay Civil Services Rule 66.

CIRCULAR MEMORANDUM No.351/33.
Bombay Castle, 11th August 1944.

The attention of all Heads of Offices and the Departments of the Secretariat is invited to paragraph 2 of the the Finance Department Circular No. 351/33, dated 25th January 1939 and they are requested to note that, when a temporary Government servant is appointed to officiate in a ~~pp~~ post not involving the assumption of duties and responsibilities of greater importance, it is open to the competent authority to fix his officiating pay at less than the presumptive pay of the post, in exercise of the power conferred by Bombay ~~F~~ Civil Services Rule 66, so as to avoid his being given more favourable treatment than a permanent Govt. servant whose officiating pay in such cases is restricted to the substantive pay drawn by him from time to time.
